It's now been 12 months since Glow launched and what a year it has been. In the past year Glow has supplied many small and larger orders and everything in between.

Over that time Glow has supplied many national commercial businesses including; radio stations, hotels, signage companies, advertising agencies, bars & nightclubs, retailers, outdoor and interior design companies, corporates, event & hire companies, architects, restaurants & cafes and now even television shows with the recent news that Glow will be one of the official suppliers to Big Brother this year.

Background

Launching in August 2011, the Perth based GLOW has developed an exclusive range with a unique UV protection formula especially suited Australia's harsh conditions, made from resilient plastic resin. Cutting edge technology that makes these products as energy efficient and resilient as they are striking, and built to meet Australian Standards.

Suitable for indoor and outdoor use, this versatile collection of illuminated Glow furniture and entertaining-wares are lit from within by remotely operated LED (light-emitting diode) lamps and make a distinctive statement in any home, alfresco or are suited to a wide range of commercial applications.

Through the infrared remote control you can customise your GLOW product to operate to suit your needs: stay on one colour or fluctuate through many different colours.

The GLOW collection includes flower pots in a range of sizes from small to larger models and square planters, cube seats and bench tables, curly bench tables, ice buckets, floating spheres for in or out of your pool, tear drop lamps, saucer lights perfect for garden borders and pathways, tower lights and many more.
